Announcements—Major to Career Connections

Need Volunteers
Be a “connection” for NVC students to help provide “real world” experiences about connecting educational goals with career planning.

Interested?
• Provide your business card/s to Jo Garcia in the CaTS Center with the following on the back:
  • List degree/s you have?
  • List your major/s, minor/s?
  • List where you received your degree/s?

The collection will become a resource for our students.

• Questions, see Jo Garcia, mgarcia1193@alamo.edu or 6-4127.
College Connections—Volunteers Needed

1--Present to NISD high school seniors about college and NVC

2--Help high school students complete their admissions application

• Dates to be determined.

• Times between 9 AM-4 PM -- we will work with your schedule. Training provided.

• Contact: Yolanda Reyes Guevara, NVC Recruitment

Isaac Hinojosa, English faculty

Isaac Hinojosa was recognized for his development of a new accelerated course in the English 1301 sequence. As an accelerated course this option will save students both time and money. Isaac spent countless hours creating curriculum, working with faculty, and developing the course to serve our students effectively.
Quality Enhancement Award

Distance Learning Team--Laura Lawrence, Cynthia Franklin, Adela Gonzales, Kris Hernandez and Kori Schneider.

The award honors the team for their efforts to get both students and faculty ready for the canvas conversion and the multiple initiatives that have improved student success for on-line courses. In part through these efforts, the on-line success rate was the best ever for NVC at 70%, closing the gap with the overall success rate of 75%.
Quality Enhancement Award

The NVC Strategies of Behavior Intervention (SOBI) Team--Adriana Cantu, Jennifer Comedy-Holmes, Sharon Dresser, Debi Gaitan, Gloria Jimenez, Martha Salinas, Cpl. Robert Sanchez, Mark Tovar, and Robert Villarreal.

The team works together as an institutional response to promote student well-being, a thriving campus environment, and successful academic experiences through an active process of assessment and intervention. SOBI is our way of assuring our campus safe for all students.
Quality Enhancement Award

Dual Credit Team--Lenny Arredondo, Julie Boerm, Jessica Coutermarsh, Jeremiah Dominquez and Nanette Lechner.

Thanks to improved Banner processing, exceptional communication with the high schools, and creation of new methods for mass enrollment into dual credit courses, the team was able to enroll all 3,052 students prior to the census deadline. These system improvements allowed the District to receive the full contact hour allotment for the NVC dual credit students. Additionally, processes such as Parent Consent forms and timelines were adopted district wide based on work developed by this team.
Service Award

Craig Coroneos, Humanities faculty member and Mary Dixson, Dean of Interdisciplinary Programs

Craig and Mary ran independent but complimentary programs that leveraged the civic enthusiasm of the 2012 presidential election into a series of coordinated, successful events. Craig organized a team of faculty, who implemented the “Presidential Debate Watch” program, and Mary organized a team of faculty, staff and students who ran the “Vista Votes” voter registration drive. Working together, they created an engaged campus, where over 500 students watched the debates, and over 800 students registered to vote for the first time.
Special Recognitions—
Can do Spirit

Susan Palmer, FPAK Administrative Secretary.

As stated by one nominee: “I cannot recount the number of times she’s dropped everything to help students, the extra hours she’s put in, and the genuinely happy disposition she’s managed to display at all times. Even when she doesn’t know the answer to a question or problem, she will investigate and find a solution or connect the customer with someone who can. She embodies all the Values of NVC.”
Special Recognitions—Collaboration

The entire library team has embraced 21st century technology by collaborating to create 24/7 online access to credible resources, instructional modules, research guides, individual research assistance through email and text, a Facebook page and blog, The Library Lowdown. The entire team works together and across the campus to find ways to serve students and build information.
Special Recognitions—Community Engaged

Workforce Education and Training Continuing Education team. The team includes: Chris Maddox, Anthony Andrade, Angelica Esparza, Melissa Flores, Josie Gonzales, Yvonne Haynes, Rachel Perez, Adriana Rodriguez, and Andrea Scheri.

The team was recognized for their exceptional service to the community and area businesses through their wide range of programs. Open Enrollment continues to grow, Community Education provides the popular “Kids Camps”, Corporate Solutions has expanded its customers and maintained a repeat customer base of over 60%, and the ESL program continues to offer new classes to meet growing student demand.
A student offers the following example of her student's first attitude and behavior: "I am currently an Alamo Colleges student that recently applied to graduate with NVC at the end of the fall semester. I just wanted to let you know that employee, Kateri Morales, BBA, was the person that helped me get all the paperwork ready and also graduate on time. If it wasn't for her, I wouldn't have been able to graduate at the end of the semester. I gave her my thanks and told her there should be more people like her--people that go out of their way to help a student succeed. I am so glad you have wonderful employees that make a difference in our future!"
Viviane Marioneaux, Coordinator of Digital Media, New Media Arts, New Media Communications.

An NVC alum shared the following: "I just completed my final semester at NVC (it is bittersweet!) and obtained my second associates degree. Also, yesterday I registered for classes at UNT for their B.A.A.S program in Applied Technology and Performance Improvement. I am really excited to begin classes! I just wanted to say Thank You! I wouldn't have continued on for my second associates degree or looked into the program at UNT if it wasn't for your guidance and suggestions for me. Thanks for taking out the time to advise me and helping me get to where I am today!"
A student wrote the following: "I just want to give special thanks to Trischa Morales who went above and beyond. She not only answered every question I had while registering but responded quickly and gave me the answers and solutions to questions I didn't even know I would have yet. Awesome job! I appreciate it so much, it made life way easier."
Special Recognitions—
Respect for All

Beverly Evans, President’s office Administrative Secretary

Beverly has never met a stranger. She treats everyone just like a long lost friend—with a smile and a hug. If you visit once, she will remember you and help you get what you need.
